

When it comes to private air travel, you always have the option of chartering a flight when needed. For those who fly private on a more regular basis, signing up for a private aviation program can offer a myriad of perks, including cost-savings benefits. There are two main types of programs when it comes to private aviation: jet cards and jet memberships. Both have their advantages to consider, but our jet membership program is superior in a number of ways. Here are just a few reasons why our program is better than jet cards:

A plane is available when you need one

When you book a flight with our membership program, you're guaranteed to have a jet available to you. There are no blackout dates or peak times when jets may not be available, whereas many jet card programs impose blackout dates.

You have more flying options

With our membership program, you can choose from a variety of different planes to fly on, depending on your needs. Whether you need a small plane for a quick trip or a larger jet for a longer flight, we have you covered.

You can customize your flying experience

Our members can customize their flying experience to match specific needs and preferences. From choosing a preferred aircraft to selecting preferred flight times, we make it easy for you to get the perfect flying experience every time.

You'll save money in the long run

Our membership program offers significant savings compared to traditional jet card programs. With our competitive wholesale rates, you can save thousands of dollars on your overall flying costs.

You can cancel at any time

Unlike jet cards, which typically require a minimum commitment period or a purchase of time upfront, our membership program offers a month-to-month option that allows you to cancel at any time with no penalties or fees. This makes it easy to take advantage of our program when you need it, without being locked into a long-term contract.

You'll have more flexibility in your travel plans

Our members have the flexibility to change their travel plans at the last minute without having to worry about fees or penalties. Jet card holders are often locked into their travel plans and can be charged hefty fees for making changes.

You'll have access to a wider variety of aircraft

When you sign up for JetMembership.com, you'll have access to a wide variety of aircraft, including private jets, turboprops, and everything in between. Jet card holders are often limited to flying on one type of aircraft.

You'll be able to take advantage of empty leg flights

As a member of a private jet program, you'll be able to take advantage of empty leg flights, which can save you even more money on your travel plans. Jet card holders are often restricted on the types of flights they can charter, and as a result, they may not be able to take advantage of empty leg flights.

You'll have access to a dedicated customer service team

As a member of our program, you're a VIP. You'll have access to a dedicated customer service team that will help you with all of your travel needs.

Flexibility

One of the biggest potential downsides of a private jet card is that it can offer less flexibility than our

Jet Membership program. This is because you generally have to purchase a set number of hours upfront, and then use those hours within a certain time period (usually one year). So if your travel needs end up changing unexpectedly, you may not be able to get the most out of your investment. If you're looking for a private aviation program with more flexibility, our Jet Membership program is the way to go.

Upfront costs

Another potential drawback of private jet cards is that they often require a significant upfront investment. This can make them less appealing for people who are only planning to use their card sporadically or who may not have the budget to cover the upfront costs. Although we do offer an annual Jet Membership program for members who want to take advantage of maximum savings, we also offer a month-to-month program, giving clients the freedom and flexibility to not commit to anything long-term.

Enroll in our Jet Membership program today

While private jet cards have become increasingly popular in recent years, there are still numerous disadvantages to consider before signing up. Some people assume that private jet cards can be a good option if they frequently fly private. However, it's important to weigh the potential disadvantages before making a decision. If you're looking for a better way to fly private and also want to cut down on costs in the process, our Jet Membership is the perfect solution.
